Dear Parents/Guardians,

We will be joining the nation for Jeans for Genes Day on Friday 23rd September to raise money for Genetics Disorders UK. We are asking for a small donation for pupils to take part and we are grateful for any amount you can give.

Staff and pupils can wear a pair of jeans instead of their usual school trousers or skirts. However, this is not a non-uniform day. To emphasise that we are supporting Jeans Day, pupils still need to wear the rest of their normal uniform (shirts/blouses, ties and jumpers/cardigans).

Genetic Disorders UK is a registered charity with a vision to improve the lives of individuals and families affected by genetic disorders. Their mission is to be the leading source of information and support for both those affected by a genetic disorder, and the charities and patient groups that support them, by bringing together everyone's combined experience in a place it can be shared.

For more information please visit: <https://www.jeansforgenesday.org/>

We look forward to having a fun day and thank you for supporting this great cause!

Yours sincerely,

Mr David Bailey
